Community Environmental Forum Theater

Citizens for Environmental Justice, Criminal Justice Association and Robin Donnelly (facilitator) present: Community Environmental Forum Theater on Saturday, November 17, 2007 at the TC Ayers Recreation Center beginning at 1:00 p.m.

Community Environmental Forum Theater is a fun and entertaining way that uses theater as a way to open communication about environmental issues. Under the direction of Robin Donnelly, the actors will participate in a workshop that will cover theater games, making images, improvisation techniques and creating scenes about how the quality of the environment directly affects the quality of our real lives.

The workshop will end with a Community Environmental Forum Theater performance on Saturday, November 17 beginning at 1:00 that allows the actors to show what they've learned and gets the audience up on their feet to participate. The performance is free to the public.

The short skits will center on the landmark trial that took place here in Corpus Christi, Texas: USA vs. CITGO that resulted in criminal convictions. Come out and see how people in the community viewed the trial; from a Hillcrest resident waking up one fateful morning because of toxic fumes coming from CITGO's illegally operated tanks to the explosive closing arguments!
